

55+ TRIP, WINTERTHUR, DEL. THURSDAY, MAY 10, 2018

In 1800 Pierre Samuel du Pont de Nemours and his family arrived in Rhode Island, settled in 1802 in Brandywine Valley, Delaware. E.I. DuPont established a gunpowder factory called E.I. DuPont de Nemours & Co. In 1810 E.I. DuPont purchased 4 tracts of land, the nucleus of Winterthur. 1837 saw the construction of a 12 room home. The house was named Winterthur after the ancestral home, in Switzerland, of I. E. DuPont's son-in-law. The architectural design was influenced by 18th and 19th century European country houses. The house has been expanded extensively and consists of 979 acres. Today, the estate is a premier museum of American decorative art, the Campbell Collection of Soup Tureens and a 60 acre garden. The Library, with 87,000 volumes, 500,000 manuscripts and more, displays changing exhibits of scholarly catalogs, some of the finest research and writing in America.
