

Raelee Gold

Soprano

RAELEE GOLD, a native of Dallas, TX, recently graduated from Westminster Choir College with her Master's in Voice Performance and Pedagogy. She completed her Bachelor's Degree in Vocal Performance in 2015 at Texas Tech University. A student of Dr. Eric Rieger, Raelee attended the CoOPERative program in 2016 and sang the role of Annina in CoOPERative 's production of La Traviata this past January. She performed the roles of La Princesse and Le Feu in Westminster Opera Theater's production of L'Enfant et les Sortilèges in the Fall of 2016, as well as the role of Ludmilla in the Spring production of Smetana's The Bartered Bride. In the coming Winter, she will perform the role of Papagaena in Mozart's Magic Flute with the CoOperative Program. Raelee currently lives in the Princeton area, teaching voice lessons and singing locally.

